Attorney Abigayle J. McKinley Joins Hollingsworth Cassman & Zivitz

Hollingsworth Cassman & Zivitz, PC ("HCZ") is proud to announce the addition of attorney Abigayle J. McKinley to its Divorce & Family Law Team.

Abigayle received her undergraduate degree from Clemson University in Philosophy (with an emphasis in Law, Liberty & Justice) and her Juris Doctor from Indiana University School of Law in Indianapolis. Her focus at HCZ will be family law and civil litigation, representing clients in all types of family law issues including divorce, custody, parenting time ("visitation"), child support, including education orders, spousal maintenance ("alimony"), property division, paternity, grandparent visitation rights, adoptions, contested adoptions, post-decree enforcement and modifications (including contempt actions), prenuptial and postnuptial agreements, domestic partnership agreements and disputes, protective orders, restraining orders and guardianships.

Very dedicated to the community, Abigayle has been and continues to be a frequent volunteer of her time. Through the Heartland Pro Bono Council in Indianapolis, she provides free and reduced-cost legal service for clients who are otherwise unable to afford adequate legal representation. While in law school at Indiana University, she participated in the school's Pro Bono Program working for Craine House, an alternative sentencing program for non-violent female offenders and their pre-school age children. She is a member of the Hamilton County, Indianapolis and Indiana Bar Associations and their family law sections.

Hollingsworth Cassman & Zivitz, PC is a full-service family law team, offering a compassionate and resolution-focused approach to family law, combining effective client advocacy with patience, empathy and understanding. HCZ's practice areas include all aspects of divorce and family law as well as estate planning, elder law, and education law.
